THE SUSPECT DISCHARGED

coroner expect to commence excavations Monday morning.

Coroner Hoffman's statement followed a conference between him and Assistant Chief Schuetler over disclosures just made to the police officials. With the information was the assistant chief declined to say but the coroner declared it was by far the most important information the Chicago police have yet received.

"I am now almost positive," said the coroner, "that the woman's body found in the ruins of the La Porte home was not that of Mrs. Guinness, but that she is still alive."

As a result of the disclosures made the assistant plans to excavate the basement and premises about the Austin home of the alleged arch murderer. Permission was secured yesterday from Daniel Nelles, the present owner of the house, to make a thorough search of the premises. The delay until Monday is caused by a desire on the part of the assistant chief to make further and more definite investigation upon the lines on which he is now working.

CHICAGO, May 9.—A restaurant-keeper informed the police that a man and woman, the latter greatly resembling Mrs. Guinness, entered his place today and ordered a meal. The waitress showed them the picture of Mrs. Guinness in a newspaper and they immediately left the place with the meal untouched. The police are searching for them.

Dissensions have broken out between the city officials in the matter of investigation the mysteries of the Guinness farm and it is claimed that the work has been hampered. Widespread reports of evidence found tending to prove that the corpse supposed to be that of Mrs. Bella Guinness is in reality the body of another woman said have had their origin in the camp of the defense members which are of opposite political faith to the sheriff and of the faction opposing the prosecuting attorney.

Statements credited to Dr. H. P. Long, one of the physicians who performed autopsies on the bodies found on the Guinness home are repudiated by him. Says he simply said he was not satisfied as to the identity of the corpse. Other members of the board refused to be brought into the question though Dr. J. H. William Meyer said he had no doubt that it was the corpse of Mrs. Guinness. The examining board declares the report of the skulls of children fractured are false.

Several articles of adornment belonging to Mrs. Guinness including the ring found in the ashes of the building a few days after the fire. For the first time since the search was begun the sheriff failed to discover a body. Excavations of several points were made but of no avail. The search for bodies will be abandoned in a few days and effort and time devoted to securing identity of the bodies already uncovered. A number of inquiries for the missing persons as been directed to the sheriff and further evidence is being developed to indicate that Lamphere knew that everything was not right in the Guinness home, even if he did not actually participate in the alleged crimes.

The revelation which stirred the present activity was made, according to Coroner Hoffman by a person whose name heretofore has not been mentioned in connection with the Guinness case. That it was given in good faith the coroner declares he is now positive, and he is equally convinced the information has furnished a clue to discoveries that may equal if not eclipse those made at La Porte. Coroner Hoffman expressed the belief that as early as ten years ago Mrs. Guinness used the matrimonial agency as a means by which to carry on her work of crime. How it would have been possible for her to entice intended victims to home and put them to death without the knowledge of her first husband the coroner does not say.

OAKLAHOMA, CITY, May 9.—Grieving because he cannot hear from Jennie Olson, the adopted daughter of Mrs. Guinness, Emil Greening and his brother Fred, who both worked on the farm last summer tell stories of mysterious men who visited the woman's house and their mysterious disappearance. Emil says after Jennie disappeared (ostensibly to go to California to school) with a professor, he was put off with one story or another by Mrs. Guinness and never heard from the Olson girl. He says men came to the Guinness farm every week and always stayed in the house and several were never seen to leave the place. Mrs. Guinness introduced them as her cousins from different cities and states.

MARATHON RUN.

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, Cal., May 9.—A lack of sufficient entries to make a close competition prevented the Olympic tryout today from furnishing close finishes. The features of the day was a 15-mile Marathon won by Joseph B. King, of the Coast Artillery running under the colors of the Irish-American Athletic Club one hour, 24 minutes, 29.1 seconds.

THE CRIMSON WINS.

CAMBRIDGE, May 9.—Harvard defeated Dartmouth dual track meet today, 68 to 49.

His Gentle Reproof.

The London newspapers used to make a distinction between a simple notice of a death, for which they charged 5 shillings, and a brief obituary, for which they demanded seven and sixpence. One day Dr. Thomas Hume called at the office of a morning journal and silently placed upon the counter the announcement of the death of a friend, together with 5 shillings. The clerk glanced at the paper, tossed it to one side and said gruffly, "Seven and six." "I have frequently," answered Hume, "had occasion to publish these simple notices, and I have never before been charged more than 5 shillings." "Simple!" repeated the clerk without looking up. "There's an added line, 'universally beloved and deeply regretted,' isn't there? Seven and six." Hume produced the additional half crown and laid it deliberately by the others, observing in his most solemn tone, "Congratulations, sir, that this is an expense which your executors will never be put to."

Worth It.

A certain gentleman who is of a jovial disposition is also very big and stout, his weight being somewhere in the neighborhood of twenty stone. On leaving a friend's house one evening he was just about to hire a cab to take him home when his host offered him the loan of his carriage. The visitor accordingly dismissed the cabman, tending at the same time a shilling for the uncommenced journey. To his astonishment, cabby asked for another sixpence.

"What do you mean?" demanded the gentleman angrily. "The fare would only have been a shilling if I had actually gone all the way."

"That's right enough," cabby replied, with an ingratiating smile, "but just think of the fright me an' the 'orse' ad when you 'alled us."—London Mail.

Conferring a Knighthood.

Sir James Knowles, the editor of the Nineteenth Century, used to describe with enjoyment the fashion in which he was knighted. He was at Sandringham one Sunday evening, and the king said to him: "Knowles, I want you to be a knight. Will that please your wife?" "I'm sure she will be charmed by your thought of her, sir." "Well, then, send word to her in town." Sir James was discovered a little later by his majesty writing a letter. "No, no," said the king. "I've given it to the court newsmen, and she will very likely see it in the papers before she gets the letter. Write out a telegram, and I will see that she has it tonight." And she had. "It was not the honor," added Sir James in telling the story, "that I valued so much as the way in which it was conferred."

DETAILS COMPLETED TO SEE FLEET

THE STEAMER ROANOKE HAS BEEN CHARTERED—IT WILL ONLY ACCOMMODATE 700—TICKETS, ASTORIA AND RETURN, $5.00.

Everything in the way of details concerning the excursion to be made across the bar have now been completed with the one exception, that of fixing the date. Secretary Metcalf is expected to fix this date immediately, in fact, has been expected to fix before this time. Senator Fulton yesterday telegraphed him asking him to do so at once.

Mr. C. H. Callender yesterday received a telegram from the master of the Roanoke saying that all preparation including a full line of life preservers had been made for the Roanoke. It will however carry but 700 people on the excursion, it being deemed wisest not to allow more than this number aboard. Therefore it behooves those who wish reservations to make them at once. The trip will be about Wednesday the 20th. There are not a great many reservations open yet to be made and home people who desire to make this trip would do well not to sleep on their opportunities in case they would prefer to go out to see the fleet on the Roanoke to viewing it from the shore somewhere along Clatsop Beach or from Seaside.

THE FIGURE.

How Too Much Fat May be Safely Reduced at Home.

"Oh, that this too, too solid flesh would melt!" cry the ladies nowadays as they try to squirm into a princess frock. How much would the too generous proportioned dame not give up for four inches less in the waist line as she compares herself with the more fortunate one hundred and twenty-five pound sister. Various devices are suggested to arrest the flesh producing tendency and keep the figure trim, including exercising, walking and dieting as well as numerous patented remedies, but there are objections to all of these. Exercising is hard work and takes up precious time; dieting is distasteful and a real punishment, and most of the patent remedies are dangerous to health.

The very best thing for the overfat, whether male or female, is a simple home receipt; 1-2 oz. Marmola, 1-2 oz. fluid Extract Cascara Aromatic, 3 1-2 oz. Syrup Simplex, which can be obtained of any druggist at small cost. This should be taken a teaspoonful at a time after meals and at bedtime, and results will be both speedy and certain. This is a harmless mixture that cannot bring on any stomach troubles or cause the dried-up wrinkled appearance of those who starve or take "patent reducers" to get thin. On the contrary, although it often takes the fat off at the rate of a pound a day, it is really very beneficial to the system, cleansing the blood and causing the complexion to become fair and beautiful. The cost of the three ingredients is a mere bagatelle, and one may, if they prefer, get them separately and mix them together at home.
